Background

Founded in 2020 to provide online educational support in response to the covid-19 pandemic, Oak National Academy has helped countless students and teachers achieve their goals.

The Problem

As a remote working organisation, Oak National Academy recognise the importance of both data protection and all colleagues receiving the necessary cyber security training.

The Solution

Hut Six's interactive and engaging cybersecurity awareness training, phishing simulator and learning management systems.

Founded at a time of significant upheaval, Oak National Academy was created as an organisation focused on delivering services in a remote work context. With all the potential information security risks that this can present, data security has always been upheld as an essential.

“Short bursts of learning every fortnight mean that [training] isn't too intrusive on work schedules, but that colleagues are able to keep their knowledge regularly updated.”

Chosen for its value for money, quality, and relevance of content, with Hut Six training, members of Oak National Academy have all engaged with information security awareness material, keeping up to date with concise, bite-sized tutorials.

“We believe that Hut Six plays a crucial role in ensuring our colleagues do not fall victim to phishing attacks.”

From our interactive tutorials to our phishing simulation package, Hut Six are incredibly proud to work alongside Oak National Academy and help promote a secure culture.

“...really pleased with the results.”
